TONK TALK ...

MENTAL HEALTH WORKSHOP
(APRIL 26-28)

An ancient Chinese parable tells of Tan Chang who had a small farm overshadowed by a towering mountain. One day he got the notion to get rid of the mountain. With the help of his wife and sons, he began to hack at the rock around its base. A neighbor walked by and scoffed, "You will never finish the job, old man! There are not enough days in the year for you to do this."

But Tan replied confidently, "I am not as foolish as you think, my friend. I may be old and feeble, but after I am gone, my sons will continue to peck away at the mountain. Then their sons and their sons' sons will do the same. Since the mountain cannot grow, someday it will be level with the ground, and the sun will shine upon our land."

As with the removal of the mountain, many of the problems we face cannot be eliminated immediately but can be moved one piece at a time, one day at a time, and with the proper help, one can learn to cope.

The Helping, Healing, Humor Mental Health workshop is like that, it will not eliminate the challenges with mental health, but it will be one of the "stones removed" to help people learn to cope with mental health. The topics that will be discussed this weekend will be topics like making aware of the mental health crisis, the need to recharge, understanding mental health, and the importance of relationships, services, and my devotion to God. We hope you and your loved ones will want to come and participate in this informative workshop and be blessed by it.

Thank you, Mark T. Tonkery
